

Congratulations!!!

You're Done with Phase I

Important Info:

- Your tooth alignment usually will not remain perfect between Phases I and II, but the jaw changes we've made are permanent
- Any retainers you have will probably stay in until all of your permanent teeth erupt and you're ready for Phase II
- These retainers were cemented with fluoride-releasing cement, so the teeth are protected and you can eat whatever you want
- We'll see you once or twice a year between Phases I and II to monitor your dental development

And Finally:

Please call us ASAP if you have any questions or problems.
